Welcome to Burlington!

GREETINGS FROM MAYOR GOLDRING

Welcome to the beautiful city of Burlington. This is a special year as we celebrate Canada 150, and Burlington is excited to join the rest of the country for this year-long party. I encourage visitors, and current and former Burlington residents to take in the many special Canada 150 projects planned this year, including patriotic exhibits, festivals and more. And of course, mark July 1 for Canada Day celebrations in Burlington.

We encourage everyone to come together and enjoy one of the best cities in the country during this special anniversary year. Take in the sights at the Sound of Music Festival, the Children’s Festival or Canada’s Largest Ribfest. Learn about our history at Ireland House or Freeman Station. Admire our natural beauty on the shores of Lake Ontario or in the woods of the Niagara Escarpment.

Make 2017 the year you Come Home 2 Burlington and rediscover all our beautiful city has to offer. I am excited to join you as we celebrate this historic milestone in Burlington.

Enjoy your visit to Burlington,

Mayor, Rick Goldring

LETTER FROM MINISTER OF TOURISM

Dear Visitors, on behalf of the Ontario Government, it gives me great pleasure to welcome you to the wonderful city of Burlington.

2017 will be an exciting and festive year where Ontarians have the opportunity to come together and celebrate the incredible province we live in. As we celebrate Ontario’s 150th anniversary in every corner of the province, I look forward to embracing the culture of inclusion, innovation and opportunity that uniquely defines Ontario.

This year is a chance for us to remember just how incredible this province is; how much we, as Ontarians, have to be proud of; and what we can accomplish when we come together. It’s an opportunity to reflect on our collective accomplishments in industry, in culture and sport, and to recognize the values that have brought us to this point.

I am reminded of these values every day when I meet with neighbours and constituents right here in Burlington. Burlington is a place to celebrate and I look forward to recognizing our talent, innovation and diversity in this significant milestone year.

All my best,

Eleanor McMahon
Minister of Tourism, Culture & Sport, MPP for Burlington
CELEBRATE CANADA’S 150 IN #BURLON

In 2017, Canada will be celebrating 150 years since Confederation. To commemorate this historic milestone we are inviting visitors and former Burlingtonians to discover Burlington events, restaurants, shops and attractions. With so many festivals happening throughout the year, there isn’t a better time to visit and celebrate all things Canadian!

If you have never visited Burlington or it’s been awhile since your last visit you will find many renewed and expanded parks, culture and sports facilities, fabulouis eateries, unique shops and Canada 150 themed events. Over the past several years the Royal Botanical Gardens has been transformed, the downtown waterfront has a new pier, the state of the art Burlington Performing Arts Centre opened its doors plus our city was named Municipality of the Year by Festivals & Events Ontario.

For more details about things to see and do in 2017 check out the Canada 150 blog on our website at tourismburlington.com, contact us at 1.877.499.9989 or refer to the city events calendar burlington.ca/calendar under Canada 150.

Silverstein is #HometownProud

“We formed 17 years ago in a basement where we rehearsed and wrote the initial songs that would kick start our career. We were inspired by the rich independent music scene that was thriving in Burlington at the time. Our weekends were spent performing at community centres and halls across the city. The music scene that developed went on to conquer the international stage and has kept us going ever since. We owe our start to Burlington!”

SWEET & SAPPY
What could be more Canadian than venturing out in the spring to the sugar bush to experience the tapping of maple trees? Throughout the month of March, make plans to visit Conservation Halton’s Mountsberg Park as it transforms into Maple Towne. See how sap is transformed into the sweet, sticky syrup at the Sugar Shanty. Learn how maple candy is made and taste a sample. Enjoy piping hot pancakes smothered in fresh maple syrup outdoors in the pavilion nestled in the woods. Be sure to leave time for a guided wagon ride through the sugar bush and to explore the rest of the park.

WORLD’S LARGEST COLLECTION
Canada is home to many amazing artists and artisans including our own Robert Bateman. You may not know that the Art Gallery of Burlington (AGB) is home to the world’s largest comprehensive collection of contemporary Canadian ceramics, totaling over 2300 works. The ceramics range from the highly functional to sculptural installations and thoughout the year you will find works from the collection on exhibit. The AGB is also home to seven guilds with studios dedicated to photography, hand-weaving, spinning, sculpture, woodcarving, ceramics, fine arts, pottery, fibre arts and hooking craft.
RICH ABORIGINAL HISTORY
Canada’s heritage is rich in aboriginal cultural and recognizes the history of the First Nations as part of our cultural fabric. At Crawford Lake, Ontario’s First Nations heritage comes to life in the reconstructed 15th century Iroquoian village. On this site, excavations uncovered 11 longhouses and artifacts from the pre-contact First Nations groups. Three of these longhouses have been reconstructed on the exact footprints of the archaeological findings. The Deer Clan features seasonal contemporary art exhibits from local First Nations artists and tours of the village run daily. This park also features a rare meromictic lake which means that the lower level of the lake remains undisturbed. It is this feature that led to the discovery of local history dating back 600 years.

TAKE IT OUTDOORS
If you have ever roasted a marshmallow on a campfire, stuck it between two graham crackers with four squares of chocolate nestled inside ...you must be Canadian. With beautiful parks spanning our great land, it’s not surprising that camping is one of our favourite pastimes. In Burlington, we are home to Bronte Creek Provincial Park where you can escape the city and get back to nature. Pitch a tent, rent a yurt or if you’re new to camping sign up for Ontario Parks “Learn to Camp” program available select dates at Bronte Creek. While you are here, explore the park, swim in the giant outdoor pool and learn more about the history of the property once known as Spruce Lane Farm.

LACE ‘EM UP
When the temperatures drop and the water freezes it’s the perfect time to lace up your skates and spend time gliding across the outdoor rink at Discovery Landing. With lakefront views this is the perfect way to enjoy winter in Burlington. Après skating, grab a warm drink from a nearby café and take a walk along the waterfront trail.
